PROJECTS

Scout Climbing Website

A website for Scout Climbing Instructors to help train instructors and track compliance

- Led solution design and development for a full-stack web application in React (HTML/CSS/JS)
- Integrated Google Cloud Dialogflow to build a customer-facing AI agent trained on site documentation
- Implemented an SQL database using Google's Cloud SQL for storage and App Engine for constant API access

SubLink

A website for Boston College students to find off-campus roommates

- Collaborated with four other members while practicing agile development through our homemade sprint board
- Devised efficient relational database models in Django optimized for multi-table queries
- Built the site using multiple services and managed the API setup and interaction for deployment
- Produced solution design documentation and wireframes in Figma, translating requirements into a prototype

Control Flow

An iOS app for crowd control at New England Base Camp

- Architected a native iOS application in Swift (MVVM) with a RESTful API layer backed by Google Firebase
- Designed the full client-server data flow from local state management to remote cloud storage
